

2011 Summer Institutes 3 weeks of intensive workshops

Understanding by Design

July 2011 @ Lambertville, NJ, along the scenic Delaware River

Grant Wiggins invites you to our challenging and thought-provoking Summer Institutes in Understanding by Design. Designed for teachers and educational leaders eager to extend their understanding of this powerful and award-winning approach to curriculum design, these highly interactive workshops immerse you in the elements of UbD, the design process, and the strategies for moving the work forward in your classroom, school, or district.

July 12 - 14

UbD: Train the Trainers & Supervisors

Prepare to train and lead a UbD-based unit design initiative in schools, districts, or state and national reforms

July 20 - 21

UbD: Designing from Standards

Learn how to unpack state/provincial/national standards to address and assess what really matters. Special attention to 'unpacking' Common Core Standards

Lovely Lambertville, NJ will once again serve as our home base for these Summer Institutes. Gaze over the Delaware River from the hotel conference room as you ponder the big ideas of UbD, then stroll the historic streets of Lambertville, enjoying shops, restaurants, and galleries into the evening. Cross the bridge into vibrant New Hope, PA for more entertainment, or drive to Princeton, only twenty minutes away.

Discounted hotel accommodations are available at the Inn at Lambertville Station, our site for the workshops. To reserve a room, call 609-397-4400 or visit www.lambertvillestation.com.

ALSO: July 6 - 8
UbD by the sea:
A UbD User's
Conference

Meet UbD Users from all over the world and learn from teachers and administrators currently using UbD (held in Long Branch NJ, on the famed Jersey Shore). Email or call us for more information!

Register online for any Institute at www.authenticeducation.org.

609-466-8080 | info@authenticeducation.org | Box 148, Hopewell NJ 08525

